The Oregon and Iowa Will Join the Fleet at Manila.

AN EMERGENCY MEASURE

to Increase the Naval Force in Asiatic Waters No Longer a Secret - The Voyage Will Take Minety Days.

The purpose of the Administration to strongly augment the naval force in Asiatic waters, pending the settlement of the Philippines question is no longer guarded with that secreey which marked the Navy Department when the first umors were in circulation to that effect. Secretary Long yesterday made the first official acknowledgment that the battleships Oregon and lown were going to Manifa. He said, in answer to an in-quiry, that instead of stopping at Honolulu to take station there, they would proceed to Manila by the Honolulu route. It was apparently the original Intenion of the Administration to have the armorelads remain at Honolulu in anticipation of an emergency in the Far East. Officers who were in a position to know said that Honolulu was the destination of the Oregon and the Iowa, but in view of Secretary Long's statement it cannot now be said with certainty that they were

Several weeks ago Admiral Dewey asked the Navy Department to send him at least me battleship and the action of the department in deciding to send the Oregon and lows is in accordance with that repuest. The voyage is unusually long, about 18,000 miles, and will take at least ninety days to accomplish. By that time the Peace Commission will have concluded its duties and any European nation that may be dissatisfied with the outcome will find that an attempt to interfere concern-ing the disposition of the Philippines must be made with due regard to the fact that two of the best buttleships in the world. two modern monitors and a number of American-built cruisers and gunboats will be prepared to resist any such interfer-

Dewey's squadron has grown to a fleet since the battle of Manila bay. With the addition of the Oregon and Iowa, he will have no less than eighteen vessels under his command, some of them, it is true, only colliers and supply ships, but all rmed and manned by American gunners armed and manned by American guinners and sesmen. When the Oregon and the lows arrive he will have in his fleet four armorelads, five cruisers, four guibouis inseluding the revenue cutter McCulloch and the former Spanish gurboat Calian, an armed transport captured from the Spanish and four supply ships and collicies. Altogether the position of Admiral Dewcy and Gen. Olis in the event of interfer-ence will be exceedingly strong, and the Government is very well satisfied with the outlook. It is obvious that Dewey's flect is not to be strengthened on account of any fear of an insurgent revolt against the authority of the United States, as Aguinaldo has only three small ships in the authority of the United States, as Aguinaldo has only three small ships in its so-called mayy, and these could be dis-posed of by the smallest of Dewey's ves-While the road has earned more money

JOHN F. VICTORY RETURNS.

He Expinius His Alleged Recent Disappearance in Toledo. Mr. John F. Victory, ex-secretary of the National Association of Letter Carriers, has returned to Washington from Toledo, Ohio, where he attended the convention held by the association in that city. In reference to the report regarding his alleged disappearance from the convention at a time when the association wanted him to explain certain matter: in reference to his accounts, Mr. Victory says that there was no disappearance upon his part, nor did the associa tion demand of him a statement of accounts. The books of the secretary and treasurer were found to agree and were approved by the convention.

At the time of Mr. Victory's departure from this city he was in very bad health and the continual strain of his duties as secretary completely prostrated him to-ward the last of the week. He was at times absent from the convention, and unfortunately at the particular time unfortunately at the particular time when he was most wanter.

"The story," Mr. Victory said, "was probably circulated by the friends of the opposing candidates for the secretary-ship of the association, who were only too glad to get hold of a trifle with which to hurt my reputation. I was mortified and humiliated that such a report should have been started. Just what occurred in executive session would not be just or proper for me to say, but not be just or proper for me to say, but it was what happened there that really broke me down, although I have been breaking down with nervous troubles for the last two years.

"I became so discouraged and dissatisfied with the way matters were shaping in the executive session that, sick and disheartened, I sought the quiet of a friend's room and there remained through Friday."

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

Of all the specialists in the world, there probably are not two that have as wide an experience in the treatment of women's diseases as Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. With the assistance of his staff of able physicians, he has prescribed, in the past thirty years, for many thousands of women. Dr. Pierce is pre-eminently a sympathetic physician. Perhaps more than any other man in the profession he realizes the hardships of woman's work, and the disadvantages under which she labors because of the weak, delicate and susceptible structure of the feminine organism. His immense practice in diseases peculiar to women forced upon his recognition the fact that women would never take the proper care of their health, so long as that care required the repugnant "examinations" and "local treatments" insisted upon by nearly all physicians. After years of study he invented a remedy now known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription that is an absolute and unfailing cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of diseases peculiar to Favorite Prescription that is an absolute and unfailing cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of diseases peculiar to women. This wonderful medicine cures in the privacy of the home, and does away with the necessity for obnoxious "local treatment." It imparts health, strength, vigor and elasticity to the organs distinctly feminine and fits for wifehood and mother-hood.

"Hotel Topsy Turvy," which will be given its first production on any stage next Monday night at the Lafayette Square Opera House, will enlist the ser-vices of what is undoubtedly the strongest combination Manager E. E. Rice has sent on the road in many years. Not less than three of his principal people are said to have starred at some time or other on their own accounts, while many others in the support are well known for their qualifications in certain branches of work. The company will, with chorus and supernumeraries, number over sev and supernumeraries, number over sever enty, among the names of which appear those of Eddle Foy, Heary Norman, Au-brey Bouckcault, Prank Docane, Edwin Conneily, Frank Smithson, E. The first presentation of a new play by John J. McNally is always an interesting event. This year it should prove doubly so, inasmuch as the popula? Rogers Brothers are its stars, while the plete is none other than that delightful farce, "A Reign of Error," a local presentation of which is announced for next week at the New National Theater.

In the comedy Mr. McNally is said to

In the comedy Mr. McNally is said to have made a distinct departure from any of his previous works. Unlike them this offering is not dependent upon specialties for the evening's entertainment. There is a plot to the piece, which the auditor is never given an opportunity to forget. The story runs through three acts and is spoken of as being novel in the extreme. It depicts the adventures of two stowaways, who, being desirous of follows. stowaways, who, being desirous of fol-lowing their sweethearts, adopt this method of traveling in order to conceal their presence. It happens that the owner of the boat overhears two schemers planning to deprive a rightful schemers planning to deprive a rightful-heir of his vist Brazilian estate, and dis-covering the presence of the lovers, de-cides to paim them off as the missing proprietor and his valet. The stowaways immediately become mest ambitious in their efforts to convince everybody of their fake identity, and the complications which ensue are said to be ludicrous in the extreme.

The company to be seen is supposed to be an exceptionally strong one. It numbers almost forty people, among them such clever players as Georgia Caine, George F. Marion, Mande Raymond, Ada Lewis, John Parr, La Petite Adelaide and Edith St. Clair. There is to be a carload of scenery, while the costumes, it is promised, will prove a revelation. The company to be seen is supposed to

The Columbia's management are casting professional eyes over their stage and dressing room accessories this week with a view to preparing for the real players who follow next Monday the present social holders of the stage. Amateurs and "The Hula Girl" give way then to the Mordaunt & Block Stock Company, Man-agers Luckett & Dwyer know the organization to be one of the most rigidly onducted theatric institutions in the country, hence the cast of the profes-

eye. Washingtonian visit of the celebrated organization presents a curious anomaly. The whole foundation of the stock system is permanency of location. The Mordaunt-Block combine is said to have stormed New York, captured it, and have been so successful that outside managerial influence pursued it to an ex-tent that has forced it transiently, at least, from home. Its managers declare that Washington is the only outside city in which the combination has booked. Thence it returns to the metropolis. "Diplomacy," Sardon's cunning compound of international tactics, love, jealousy, intrigue, and revence, will be the opening bill here. It is to be staged by William Seymour, who produced the play originally at Wallack's old theater, in New York, in 1877, with Lester Wallack and Harry Montague in the cast.

The attraction at the Academy of Musi next week will be found in Edward Girard's revival of "Natural Gas," a farc-comedy of high order, cleanly presented and with what is said to be a brillian cast of characters. Several new and tak ing specialties are introduced in the piece by Mr. Girard, Edward Garvie, Amy Ames, Mollie Thompson, Jessie Gardner, Nina Bertolini, Alice Black and Nellie Gilchrist. The costumes are spoken of a
